To restore riparian ecosystems at three key sites in the Lower Waikato River Catchment

This project will restore riparian ecosystems at three key sites along the margins of the Lower Waikato River.

The way this project and work is implemented aims to optimise biodiversity outcomes, contribute to improvements in river health and wellbeing, include benefits for cultural outcomes (i.e. significant sites, cultural resources, and connectedness with the River).

Improve access and recreation opportunities, enhance aesthetics and landscape values and develop capacity for future restoration work and on-going site maintenance.

This project is funded by the Waikato River Authority (WRA11-108)
